

MOST FAMOUS "STRONG MAN" AND HIS FATAL WEAKNESS *

Familiar Story of Samson, Man of Mighty Muscles and Frankster Mind—What Happens When God Leaves a Man the Final Crash of Victory.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

What use are the strong going to make of their strength? That is as real a problem for myriads of our young people today as it was in the case of Samson, the strong man of Israel in the era of the Judges. His parents had dedicated him to the service of God and their oppressed country. Samson was under the Nazirites' vow, to drink no wine, leave his hair uncut and forego sensual pleasures. His parents dreamed that he would become a deliverer and judge of his nation.

Instead, Samson became what modern lingo calls a "playboy," a playboy, a pranksman, a propounder of riddles, a self-indulging "fast" young man. His unique qualities he employed for his own pleasure, rather than for public service.

He married the Wrong Girl. Samson's first wilful blunder was in marrying the wrong girl. His roving fancy fell upon a Philistine maid, and only his parents got her for him as wife. They remonstrated: were there not plenty of beautiful and suitable maidens among the Hebrews?

They knew, as older persons everywhere know, that young persons should marry only within the bounds of their own race and religion. All of us are familiar with tragedies which have followed violations of this fundamental law. What tales I could tell to illustrate this truth!

But, alas, heady youth is often least wise when wisdom is most needed. No other step in a young person's life, and only his settling his personal relationship with God, is so important as the choice of a wife or a husband. Then, if ever, strong common sense should rule. It is folly, and a sheer abdication of good judgment, for two youths to run off to a magistrate for an unconsummated marriage of impulse. There needs a little wonder that so many such weddings quickly wind up in the divorce court. Every boy and girl should early be taught, "When your own, do so within the limits of your own race and religion; and look well before you leap." That counsel sums up the wisdom of the ages.

A Famous Riddle. On his way to get his Philistine bride, Samson slew a lion with his bare hands. For lions were then common in Palestine and Arabia; even now one is occasionally seen in the desert. Some days later, on the way to his wedding feast with his bride, Samson saw that bees had taken possession of the lion's skeleton, which, of course, jackals and vultures had stripped to the bone; and he ate of the honey. At the feast he propounded to his thirty Philistine guests the famous riddle: "Out of the later came forth food, And out of the strong came forth sweetness. Raiment were waged, The bride coaxed the secret from Samson, and told her friends. In anger he slew thirty other Philistines, and so secured garments with which to pay his debt. The outcome of that incident was that the bride and her family were slain by the Philistines.

But Samson took another Philistine wife, Delilah, who, after many failures, wormed from him the secret that his strength was in his hair. The loss of it would mean the breaking of the vow with Jehovah. Thus at last the enemy mastered him, and put out his eyes, and set him at the animal task of grinding a mill.

Let's Be Serious. We may well take counsel with Samson. For ours is a frivolous, superficial day. Despite the weight of woes that bears down on the world, the prevailing mood is trifling. Myriads, especially of youth, are content with trivial interests and trashy pleasures. A radio station manager tells me that eighty per cent of his hearers vote for jazz music. Most motion pictures are cheap and tasteless. The magazines which crowd our newsstands would, for the far greater part, better be left unread. Evidently, the Samson mood is abroad in the world.

For Samson's basic sin was his failure to take himself and life seriously. He would sacrifice years of usefulness for a momentary gratification. He was wilful, headstrong, impulsive, irresponsible. And that sort of young man is forever and everywhere in for trouble, and for a bitter reckoning.

A Giant's Strength. Today's young man enters up on life with more equipment of power and knowledge at his command than the youth of any other generation. He is "the heir of all the ages." But he needs the serious purpose and intense application that gave us the great men of earlier eras. Old Israel had one crying grief in Samson's day. It was subject to the Philistines. He was fitted in all but his own attitude, to become a deliverer. But he sold his birthright for an unsatisfactory mess of heathen pottage. An equal lack of deep interest for the welfare of our time is found in a multitude of competent young men.

The Sunday School Lesson for July 31 is "Messengers From Israel's Early Leaders—Samson: Strength and Weakness."—J. udges, Chapters 13-16.

youth today. They take no active interest in politics. They read the comics in the newspapers more assiduously than they read the foreign news. Spain and China and Czechoslovakia and Ethiopia cause them no anxious thought. They are indifferent to a menacing world war. Our own threatening social and economic problems they view only from the standpoint of self-interest. They do not read the great books, including the Bible. They do not put their backs under the church's task. They seem unaware that:

"There is a poor, blind Samson in Shorn of his strength, and bound with bands of steel, Who may, in some grim revel, raise his hand, And shake the pillars of the commonweal."

Dying Like A Hero. After his eyes had been put out, Samson was left, while he toiled at a donkey task, at last thought like a true man. Jehovah had left him in the days when he sported his giant's strength like a fool. For the grim Scripture is true: "My Spirit will not always strive with man." But in the misery and suffering of his laborious captivity, Samson renewed his covenant with God. All unheeded by his captors, his strength returned. So when he was called upon to make sport for his enemies in the great tower of Dagon (French archaeologists recently unearthed a Dagon temple in Syria), he saw his opportunity to strike a last blow for Israel. He pulled down the supporting pillars, and slew more men at his death than in his life. He himself perished vicariously, dying in strength, whereas he had lived in weakness.

NAVARRO COUNTY IS ASKED CONTRIBUTE AID FLOOD VICTIMS

$365 PLACED AS QUOTA FOR NAVARRO COUNTY RED CROSS UNIT

The citizens of Navarro county are asked to contribute the sum of $365 as their minimum aid to the flood sufferers of Southwest Texas, who were rendered homeless and lost all they had accumulated through years of industry by the flooding waters of the Colorado, San Saba and other rivers and creeks as the result of unprecedented summer rains of the past week or more.

The American Red Cross has sent workers and supplies into the stricken area, but will need more money for relief of those stricken and for later rehabilitation work. J. N. Garitty, chairman of the Navarro county chapter of the Red Cross, has been appealed by Wm. M. Baxter, Jr., chairman of the mid-western branch of the Red Cross at St. Louis, for quick action in raising the needed funds and Mr. Garitty in turn is appealing to the citizens of this city and county to come forward and give generously to this cause.

Contributions may be left either at the First National Bank, Mr. Garitty's headquarters, or at the office of The Daily Sun. They will be forwarded immediately to the St. Louis headquarters.

Another appeal concerning the necessity of quick and generous action was received by Mr. Garitty Wednesday, as follows: St. Louis, Mo., July 27, 1938, Jim Nick Garitty, Navarro County Chapter, American Red Cross, care First National Bank.

"Reports received from Red Cross representatives confirm major disaster in San Saba, McCulloch, Menard and other counties along Colorado river and tributaries. Incomplete surveys show 970 families affected, 127 homes destroyed, 650 homes damaged.

"Minimum relief fund of $100,000 required to meet need reported to date. Am. Red Cross appeal to all Texas chapters. Your chapter should make immediate and vigorous appeal with full publicity to secure quota of $365. Report and transmit collections promptly to this office.

"Wm. M. Baxter, Jr."

Allred Urges Giving. AUSTIN, July 27.—(AP)—Asserting "sympathy is not enough," Governor James V. Allred today asked contributions for the relief of Texas flood sufferers.

In a proclamation he named the American Red Cross the official agency for relief work and urged that Texans make contributions to local chapters of the organization.

He said the Red Cross reported two persons killed, 4,000 being fed, sheltered and clothed, 125 homes destroyed and 600 badly damaged in the flood area.

San Antonio's Quota. SAN ANTONIO, July 27.—(AP)—Seven thousand dollars is being sought by the Bexar county chapter, American Red Cross, as its quota for relief of victims of the San Saba and Colorado river

BOLL WORMS ARE REPORTED MAKING APPEARANCE HERE

Boll worms are showing in various sections of Navarro county, especially in the rank bottom fields, H. C. Robinson, county agent, stated Tuesday.

There are some fears, worms reported in some sections. The county agent said that the present weather conditions were conducive and favorable to insects of various types that make inroads into the cotton prospects.

Uniform Decorations For Fair Week Sought

Corsicana merchants were being solicited Wednesday for orders for a uniform type of decorations to be used during fair week and other occasions throughout the year.

The style of decorations were approved at the Retail Trade Extension committee of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon; it was stated no decorations would be purchased unless seventy-five per cent of the merchants agreed to participate.

PLAN ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN TO BRING TOURISTS TO TEXAS

TEXAS GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION TO SPONSOR EFFORT AID STATE

An advertising campaign designed to whet the interest of Texans in the scenic, recreational and travel opportunities in Texas will be released Tuesday by the Texas Good Roads Association showing the wonders and beauties of Texas. The advertisement has been prepared in map form and will be released through the offices of The Texas Press Association, which endorsed the movement at its recent annual convention. The material will include one full page, attractive designed layout and a page of 16 smaller mats.

The movement has the approval of the Texas Highway Commission, the Texas Traffic Safety Association, Chambers of Commerce and other civic organizations. "Texas has been slow to stimulate tourist traffic," said Matt Smith, "Many Texans are wholly unaware of the wonderful things scattered through this broad state of ours. The purpose of this effort is to give Texans a better appreciation of their state and to arouse in them an interest to visit spots of rare scenic, recreational and historical value. Texas has everything for the tourist and we believe, most of them would 'See Texas First' if properly encouraged to do so. A brief tour to any part of Texas will convince any motorist that there are splendid opportunities in his own back yard for a restful, thrill packed vacation or travel tour. Let's 'See Texas First.' Then when we visit the other states we will be better able to sell Texas to tourists in other areas. Let's get acquainted with the Big Bend, the wonderful Texas Panhandle country, the giant forests and oil fields in East Texas, the beauties of the Texas coast and the magic Rio Grande Valley. Then more of us will sell Texas to the world and bring in a golden flow of new tourist dollars."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dowd are graduates of the Corsicana High school, they having graduated with the class of 1935. Mrs. Dowd is an employee in the office of the J. M. Dyer Co., and Mr. Dowd is mechanic at the Clinch Service Station.

Both are quite popular in the young social circles, and are at home to their many friends in an attractive furnished apartment in the W. T. Hill home, 1544 West Fifth avenue.

Shower Given Bride. Mrs. A. C. Nutt complimented her niece, Miss Marguerite Nutt, bride-elect of J. D. Dowd, with a miscellaneous shower Thursday, July 14.

She chose a pink and white color scheme in the decorations and refreshment course. Pink and white gladioli and zinnias were used as floral adornment of the home, and the basket in which the gifts were presented the honoree, was decorated in the chosen colors.

After the gifts were received and passed around for all to view, Mrs. Nutt, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Clyde Nutt, her niece, Mrs. Hubert Herrod, and the honoree's mother, Mrs. Bruce Nutt, served pink and white brick and white ice cream and angel food squares, iced in pink. Plate favors were pink and white baskets filled with pink and white gumdrops.

He was charged in connection with the hi-jacking of Ashford Myers of July 5, and Ed Allen, July 19, when $7 was taken. The charges were signed by Deputy Sheriff Jack Floyd and were accepted by J. C. Roe, assistant criminal district attorney.

A white man was named in a misdemeanor theft complaint Tuesday by Judge A. E. Foster in connection with the alleged theft of 100 pounds of maize at Purdon from Elmo Newton. The arrest was made by Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse and the complaint was signed by Deputy Sheriff Alton Bradley.

Four were fined on drunkenness charges Tuesday morning by Judge Foster.

RAIN FELL HERE ON 10 SUCCESSIVE DAYS ENDING TUESDAY

Rain fell in Corsicana for 10 successive days ending Tuesday. On five of the 10 days the rain was so light that it was listed as only a trace on the government gauge and on the other five days the fall ranged from .05 of an inch to .37 of an inch. The total rainfall for the entire period was only .89 of an inch.

In some sections of the county heavy rains fell while in others the rain was similar to that in Corsicana.

Farmers expressed fear that the continued rains would cause insects and that considerable damage might result. However, insects have not shown up in great numbers and if hot weather follows immediately very little damage is expected.

Extremely mild temperatures prevailed during the ten day period. Maximum readings on the government thermometer ranged from 79 to 92 over that period as compared with a range of 92 to 105 over the same period last year. Minimum temperatures were also much lower.

FOOD POISONING SHOWS NECESSITY PROPER HANDLING

PREVENTION FOOD POISONING REQUIRES CLEAN FOOD CONSUMED FRESH

AUSTIN, July 28.—(Sp.)—"Recent outbreaks of food poisoning very strikingly the need for special care in handling and refrigerating any food that must be prepared some time in advance of serving," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

"Prevention of food poisoning requires clean food handled as little as possible and consumed while it is fresh. Foods prepared hours before serving, and allowed to stand at warm temperatures become good culture media for bacteria. Cooked products of a perishable nature are readily subject to decomposition, and must be kept well refrigerated.

"Most food poisoning is caused by infection by certain types of bacteria which grow rapidly under favorable conditions, such as high temperature and high humidity. The infection may come from dirty hands, utensils, flies, rodents, contaminated water, infected food materials and in some cases in certain types of bacteria, which are rapidly spread and not necessarily associated with filthy conditions.

"Picnic food is particularly susceptible to transmitting food poisoning to the members of the picnic party. Be sure you have sound, fresh, foods clean, free from stagnant odors, slime, etc. Require all who prepare the food for use to wash their hands thoroughly before handling it.

"Avoid excessive hand contacts with the food. See that clean containers are used and that special care is exercised in wrapping foods and in protecting them from contamination.

"If food must be prepared much in advance of use, cook it thoroughly, keep it refrigerated

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Corbet Club. "The Control of Household Pests" was discussed by our kitchen demonstrator, Mrs. J. L. Womack, Tuesday afternoon, July 26.

Mrs. Womack gave the following demonstrations: Control of silverfish, cockroaches, moths and bedbugs.

Mrs. Womack continued by giving a very interesting lesson on typhoid and the fly. The house fly is sometimes called the typhoid fly because it has been found to spread typhoid fever. Typhoid is distributed by water, milk and other foods if the germs get into them. Typhoid germs always come from solid and liquid material thrown off from the body.

Only a few flies survive the winter months. In the spring they begin feeding actively and soon commence laying eggs. For this reason, they seek the dirtiest, filthiest place that can be found. They have good noses and find these places by smell even though people may not notice them.

A fly lives from two to three months and lays from 120 to 150 eggs at a time. And may live to lay six times. It is two weeks old when it begins to lay.

Flies carry diseases by eating and walking over filth and get germs on their feet and bills, then walk over our food or get into our water or milk. The typhoid germ does not multiply only when outside the human body except in milk.

The hostess, Mrs. A. S. Thompson, assisted by her daughters, Dot and Katherine, served punch and cookies to nine members, after which a number of games were played. A very delightful afternoon was enjoyed by all—Reporter.

and otherwise protected at a temperature under 50 degrees F., until you are ready to use it.

Avoid serving foods that are readily infected, such as certain salads, and cream-filled pastries. Any foods that are not to be served immediately should be kept on ice. Milk, ice cream and dairy products in general should be from approved sources.

"Digestive upsets cannot always be blamed on the food served or eaten at an outing. Sometimes excessive heat and humidity combined with over-exertion and over-heating, as well as over-eating, help to bring them about. Remember this, and don't indulge in too strenuous exercise when the days are hot and muggy. Don't over-indulge, either, in unwise combinations of foods."

AFTER 10 HOURS THIS WAS DECISION

John Ward, 26, and unemployed, who for 10 hours had stood on a 17th floor ledge of a New York hotel debating whether "life was worth living" has made his decision. He hurtles past a sixth floor window toward death. This dramatic photo was made by Harold Harris, Associated Press Staff photographer.

Death's at hand—Battered by the plunge into the hotel marquee just overhead (note broken glass), John Ward's body plummets the few remaining feet to life's end, as police and spectators cringe.

And this is the end—Police lift John Ward's crumpled body onto a stretcher --- women spectators faint --- men murmured prayers.

IT'S GRAPE JUICE TIME IN TEXAS SAYS FOOD SPECIALIST

MUSTANG GRAPE IS MOST POPULAR VARIETY FOR MAKING OF LIQUID

COLLEGE STATION, July 28.—(Sp.)—It's grape juice time again according to Grace I. Neely Extension specialist in food preservation. Here are a few do's and don'ts to aid in giving the desired aroma and flavor to one of the oldest and most popular of fermented fruit beverages—grape juice.

The mustang grape seems to be the most popular variety in Texas for making into juice. They have a high acid content and a very small amount of natural sugar when combined with the black Spanish, grown in the western part of the state, or with the American varieties, grown in the eastern section, the juice is greatly improved because these grapes contain over 20 per cent sugar. A good proportion for the mixture is half mustang and half of one of the other varieties selected.

This improves the ratio of acid and sugar which affects the flavor and taste.

The grapes used should be of the highest quality to give the best flavor. Miss Neely stated. Musty grapes will produce juice with an off odor and flavor. Look the grapes over and grade according to quality and ripeness. Take the ripe sound fruit and make it up separately. The less choice or slightly underripe fruit can be utilized in other ways such as canned juice for making into fresh jelly during the year.

Recipes for making up grape juice can be secured from the offices of county home demonstration agents, Miss Neely pointed out.

Grape juice keeps better in a cool, dark, dry place. Stored at 80 degrees F. for six to seven months, the juice had a fine flavor. The flavor was good. Before storing, the bottles should be polished and properly labeled, Miss Neely said.

CARELESSLY THROWN CIGARETTE STUBS ARE CAUSE OF NUMEROUS GRASS FIRES ALONG HIGHWAYS

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL
AUSTIN, July 28.—(P)—Cigarettes are blamed for denuding Texas highways of some of their natural beauty.

Jac L. Gubbles, landscape engineer for the highway department, warns that carelessly tossed cigar stubs are responsible for too many fires in dry grass and result in damage to shrubs and trees.

He points out the modern automobile is equipped with ash trays—the proper place for discarded smokes.

Says Gubbles: "Considerable expense has been incurred in promoting the growth of grass and other greenery along highways. These growths serve the double purpose of preventing erosion of the soil and adding much to the joy of travelling. If, through carelessness, they are destroyed by fire the state loses a portion of its financial investment and the motorist loses much of the pleasure of travelling."

Capitol visitors often linger under William H. Huddle's painting of Santa Anna's surrender which hangs in a corridor.

A recent visitor stayed longer than usual.

He was S. T. Brogdon of Stephenville, 61-year-old candidate for governor in the first democratic primary, whose platform featured annexation—peaceful or by force, if necessary—of Mexico.

State library officials are out to demonstrate free county libraries are feasible in many counties that do not have them.

As a starter they lent Comal county 1,000 volumes for free use for four months. The books are kept in a store at New Braunfels for circulation among all citizens. Officials believe the sample taste of free service will lead to creation of a permanent county library system. Under existing law any county may establish a system, providing the headquarters building is in the county seat and a certified librarian in charge. A portion of the county's general fund tax may be diverted for library support.

There is no legal provision for a special library tax within counties but persons interested in the library movement hope to change that at the next session of the legislature. They hope also to obtain a state appropriation for county library aid.

Twenty counties now have free systems and proponents argue any county with more than $10,000,000 assessed valuation should operate one. Eighty-nine counties fall within this classification.

Some of the more wealthy subdivisions without library service, they say, are Dallas, Gregg, El Paso, Gray, Grayson, Hill, Hunt, Collin, Lamar, Navarro, Nueces, Pecos, Smith, Upshur, Van Zandt, Webb, Wichita, Williamson and Winkler.

Recent news from state departments has been colorful in a literal sense. From the game department came the announcement that forest green uniforms. The highway commission followed up with a decision 1939 license plates for passenger automobiles would have purple numbers on a gold background.

Texas law does not protect woodpeckers but only the ill advised would shoot one. All species, except the sparrow, are protected by federal regulations because they are great destroyers of insects and other pests.

Broiling weather does not alter a requirement that coats must be worn in the state supreme court. The court meets infrequently in summer and a recent announcement by the clerk the justices would assemble to consider an election case caused a flurry in the news correspondents' room. One of them, out to defy a heat wave, had come to work coales and tieless. It took considerable time before he could borrow the necessary habiliment from colleagues.

APPROPRIATION OF $20,000 IS SAVING $10,000,000 YEARLY

OPERATION OF FIREMAN'S TRAINING SCHOOL OF GREAT VALUE TO STATE

COLLEGE STATION, July 28.—(P)—It may sound hard to believe, but a $20,000 appropriation made by the State Legislature in 1937 is returning to Texas property owners a saving of approximately $10,000,000 a year in preventing fire loss, and at a cost of about $4,000 annually.

This appropriation was made for the equipping and operation of the Fireman's Training School at Texas A. and M. College and the bulk of the original money was spent for fire fighting apparatus and other permanent equipment. The $4,000 annual cost is spent for the salary and expenses of Field Instructor G. F. Williams, who spends about ten months of each year traveling through Texas instructing fire departments in the latest and approved methods of fire fighting and fire prevention, according to H. R. Brayton, director of the school.

The training was organized under Prof. Brayton's guidance in 1937 and the first annual Fireman's Training School was held in 1938, when 76 cities sent 198 men to attend the course. It has grown annually, until this year 245 cities were represented and approximately 600 firemen took part in the training.

Key Rate Reduction
It was not until 1933, however, and after the appropriation mentioned had been made, that the work was extended to the field. Cities sending representative to the course receive a three per cent reduction in their key rate, provided the existing rate is not twenty cents or lower.

Figures compiled by Prof. Brayton show that between $40,000 and $50,000 in reduced fire insurance premiums are saved by Texas property owners each year, with more than $300,000 saved since the establishment of the school, through 1937.

The savings reported do not show the improvement which has been made in fire fighting methods, Brayton explained. "In 1931 the fire loss in Texas amounted to over $17,500,000," he said, "but in 1937 after seven years of training school instruction, the loss was only about $7,500,000. The fire loss ratio compared to insurance premiums was 75 per cent in 1931 but last year it was only 34 per cent," he added. Meanwhile insurance premiums have shown considerable reduction in addition to the three per cent key rate reduction mentioned.

Fire Losses Reduced.
Prof. Brayton's report shows that the Texas fire loss for the five-year period ending in 1932 totaled about $81,000,000 as compared to a similar period ending in 1937, which showed a total of about $32,500,000 destroyed through fire. This reduction may be attributed in a large measure to the training given the firemen at the school.

"I attribute the success of the training school not only to the increased efficiency of the firemen themselves, but to the fact that we have made Texas citizens fire prevention conscious," Brayton concluded.

Prof. Grayton is a member of the faculty of Texas A. and M. college, serving as professor of inorganic chemistry, in the department of chemistry and chemical engineering, which department is in charge of the Fireman's Training School.

Co. of operation of the annual school is paid by nominal registration fee of $12 charged those enrolling and which covers their oom, meals and instruction while at the college for six days.

Federal, State Relief Spending $22,000,000,000

WASHINGTON, July 27.—(P)—Federal state expenditures to combat depression and unemployment have totaled nearly 22 billion dollars since 1932.

Treasury figures announced today showed $16,647,365.75 in emergency federal appropriations available before July 1. State expenditures for relief were placed last spring at $5,100,000,000 by a senate committee investigating unemployment.

Of the federal expenditures, the treasury listed about $8,000,000,000 before April 8, 1935, and $8,656,321,646 since that date. That was the time at which the treasury assumed administrative accounting responsibility for emergency funds.

The largest slice of the money since April 8, 1935, went to highway, street and road construction, which got $1,988,741,710. Conservation work came next with an expenditure of $984,081,583. States received $922,345,199 for continuing relief.

Other expenditures were: Public buildings, $631,771,120; housing, $111,708,331; public recreational facilities, $638,194,738; electric utilities, water and sewerage systems, $501,767,474; transportation facilities, $221,819,347; educational, professional, and clerical projects, $735,783,130; sewing, canning and miscellaneous projects, $631,086,722; rural resettlement and direct relief, $432,430,081; and administrative expenses, $441,606,408.

Highway Patrol Plan "Test Lane" Here Next Week

Citizens of Corsicana were invited Wednesday to make their preparations to join city and county authorities and civic leaders in another form of "safety in traffic" next week by sending their automobile vehicles through the "test lane" of the Texas highway patrol scheduled to be in the city August 1 to 3.

Tentative arrangements were made to establish the lane in the 200 block on West Sixth avenue near the postoffice where a similar test was held in 1936, but final plans will not be made until Sergeant Ross Dickey and his crew arrive in the city over the week end.

Officials pointed out that each vehicle was given a thorough test to determine its safety while being driven and should result in many needed repairs being made, and in cases where the car was approved the driver would have an additional feeling of safety.

RED CROSS MAKES APPEAL FOR FUNDS AID FLOOD VICTIMS

J. N. Garlitt, chairman of the Navarro County Chapter of the American Red Cross, has received an appeal from Wm. M. Baxter, Jr., in charge of the southwestern headquarters of the Red Cross, in St. Louis, asking that an appeal be made for funds for the relief of flood sufferers in McCulloch, Menard and San Saba counties, of Texas, and he is urging local people to send in contributions to the fund that is expected to be raised locally.

Those desiring to make contributions to this worthy cause are asked to leave or send their checks or cash to the First National Bank or The Daily Sun. Those who have been keeping up with the flood situation in the Southwest and Texas, and who are usually heavy for any time of the year—the usual dry season—they are unprecendented and have created a serious situation.

Homes have been swept away or rendered unfit for habitation and crops have been completely destroyed in many instances over a wide area. The rains were unusually heavy for any time of the year but for this time of year—the usual dry season—they are unprecendented and have created a serious situation.

Advance in Hog Prices Tuesday Chicago Market

CHICAGO, July 28.—(P)—Hog prices shot up 10 to 20 cents here early today with settlement of the labor trouble involving several small packing companies. The advance carried the hog top to $10.25 per hundredweight, the highest since last October. Reaching of an agreement in the dispute between representatives of the United Packing House Workers of America, a CIO affiliate, and the packing concerns meant that these companies were back in the livestock market for supplies for the first time in ten days. The packers reported slaughtering operations will be resumed in their plants tomorrow. Use a Daily Sun Want Ad for quick results.

CORSICANA, TEX., JULY 29, 1938

WHEN FOUR EQUALS FIVE.

Here's a nice little problem to keep the youngsters out of mischief one of these warm afternoons. Howard Hughes flew around the world in four days of elapsed time if a day is figured as a period of twenty-four hours.

If a day is measured by successive periods of daylight and darkness his trip was longer. He saw five nights and five days on that four-day flight.

There was one night spent in the air over the Atlantic Ocean. The second night was spent at Paris and in the air on his way to Moscow. The third was spent at Omsk and in the start for Yakutsk. The fourth night was the first part of his flight to Fairbanks. The fifth night was spent winging over part of Canada.

During the five "days" of the flight he was approaching Paris, flying from Moscow to Omsk, approaching Yakutsk, flying away from Fairbanks and flying toward New York.

It's a grand problem to work out with a globe map of the earth. When the family has it all solved they can reverse the process and figure out why four days spent flying around the world toward the setting sun instead of toward the rising sun would have given the flyers only three periods of alternate darkness and daylight.

BETTER BOMBERS

Four British bombing planes made an impressive record the other day. They flew 4,300 miles from England to Egypt in thirty-two hours of flying and without a stop. The previous record was made by flyers of the Italian air force who flew from Dakar, West Africa to Rio de Janeiro, but their jaunt was 980 miles shorter than the Britons' flight.

In both these flights the interest lay in the accomplishment of the ships and men, not in the destruction of cities and people, for these bombers dropped no bombs. With such a range, however, their value as instruments of war becomes painfully clear. The trend is to bigger bombers with greater power and longer range. If this sort of competition keeps up it will become very easy for civilization to commit suicide.

EUROPE'S PROBLEMS

In a time when Americans are given more than usual to doubt and self-searching, a reassuring comment comes from beyond the sea. Anne O'Hare McCormick, foreign correspondent of the New York Times, tells of meeting, on the day when Hitler marched into Austria, "an old, wise Roman" who said to her:

"This is the way Europe acts, by the easy way of force majeure. We call ourselves the center of civilization, and we have great moments, but we cannot face facts. In 2,000 years we have learned nothing. For centuries there has never been so little sense of the community of Europe as there is today.

"I am amused when I hear Europeans talk of how easy and simple your problems are, compared with ours. The truth is that you have done everything we have failed to do. You have made a United States of Europe; you have taken our serfs and made them free, our poorest and made them rich, our irreconcilable strains and given them peace. Using the same

FOR ALL MANKIND.
The world rewards mankind with countless things,
With holy days of feasting and of rest,
With wisdom and it's never-ending quest;
Music of reed and brass and rhobbing strings;
Forests and rivers; haunts where beauty flings
Her treasures. Song and sudden jest
Which soothe the ache of sorrow in the breast,
Alike for peasant as for mighty kings.

Art beckons some; sport has its devotees;
Summer and autumn, winter and the spring,
All have their own particular charms to bring,
Some hour of joy which mortals rush to seize.
As if this world were fashioned to a plan
Designed to suit the moods and whims of man.

INDUSTRIAL DEMOCRACY.

Democracy must be practical, argued Dr. Solomon Lowenstein, at the National Conference of Social Work in Seattle. High idealism alone will not suffice. "The final and great test for American democracy in its competition with totalitarian ideals will not come in fields of personal and human liberties, but in the comparison of what our method of life can provide in the way of a higher standard of living, security of condition and industrial democracy."

He finds democratic liberties today not impaired, but made more difficult by what he calls "a dual government," with "political democracy and industrial feudalism existing side by side."

This is a new idea to millions of Americans, who have been saying lately that whatever excessive power may exist is on the side of government rather than industry. Dr. Lowenstein insists that the next important step is "the democratization of our industrial life."

An impartial observer might say that this process is going on pretty rapidly right now with the growth of labor unions, the voluntary price reductions in the steel industry, and so on.

POLITICALLY BACKWARD

The world's big dictatorships and problem-nations are that way because they are politically backward, explains Philip Guedalla, a prominent British historian. He finds nothing new about despotism in those lands. It was there a century ago, he remarks: "and if it is still there, the fact proves little more than that Germans, Russians and Italians have been slow to learn the complicated art of government."

He adds sympathetically that we needn't be surprised, because it took Anglo-Saxons four or five centuries to learn that lesson. "Russia," he observes, has had barely twenty years to unlearn the mental habits inculcated by five centuries of despotism. Germany and Italy have enjoyed their national existence for little more than two generations, and as self-governing units they are considerably younger than most states of the Union. So we cannot reasonably expect that they will have mastered a difficult accomplishment in so short a time."

The nationalities referred to are not asking for sympathy, and may resent this patronizing comment, especially the Germans who are so fully convinced of their all-around superiority to the rest of mankind. But it seems to be the truth. Whatever latent capacities those races have, or how ever they may be developed individually and culturally, they are clearly very backward politically—in the difficult art of self-government.

The stock market upturn may have come from the fact that people, tired of hoarding, just had to spend money for something.

seamy stuff we all employ, and starting from scratch, no country has gone so far to remake the world. "And isn't it the truth?" Doesn't the only hope for Europe lie in following as well as it can, the American example.

HARVEST TIME IN THE FAR EAST!

UNFORTUNATE FASCISTS.

If we may judge from numerous new photographs, Premier Mussolini is a very athletic fellow and quite skilled in a great many sports. None of his companions can beat him at fencing or riding or swimming. Perhaps they wouldn't if they could, but let that pass. He sets a pace which fellow-Fascists think they must follow, and sometimes they come to grief doing so.

There was a pitiful story recently of four "Fascist party chiefs" who tried to show off their own prowess before the Duce. Two of them, jumping from a springboard over bayonets, missed their distance and landed on the sharp points of the weapons. Another, leaping through a ring of fire, missed his distance and got a little scorched. The fourth landed on top of a tank, which was not his intention, and injured his chest.

It doesn't seem likely that those four men will win promotions for their skill. It may be, too, that whatever admiration they possessed for their always successful leader will be a little soured by this ignominious failure in his presence. The report doesn't say what the august Mussolini did on this occasion, but he should not be too hard on the four men. They probably failed because of stage fright or over-anxiety to meet his approval.

Department of Agriculture, the Trinity River watershed agency has already actively started the survey of the Richland Creek watershed. A party of four Department of Agriculture experts will work from Richland Creek toward the mouth of the river.

MORE THAN HALF MEMBERS OF TEXAS HOUSE RETURNED

EIGHT LOSE IN FIRST PRIMARY AND TWENTY-THREE IN RUN-OFFS

AUSTIN, July 26.—(P)—Incomplete election reports received here today indicated at least eight of the 108 state representatives seeking renominations were beaten in the first primary and 23 were forced into run-offs.

The house has 150 members but 42 retired voluntarily. Reports available here said at least 68 were renominated.

Among veterans reported renominated, some without opposition, were Elmer Pope of Corpus Christi, Lon E. Alsop of Carthage, P. L. Anderson and R. L. Reader of San Antonio, J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene, Augustine Celaya of Brownsville, Harold M. Hankamer of El Paso, Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill, Howard G. Hartzog of Port Lavaca, Homer Leonard of McAllen, C. M. McFarlane of Wichita Falls, G. C. Morris of Greenville, R. Emmett Morse of Houston, C. E. Nicholson of Port Neches, W. O. Weed and Jeff D. Stinson of Dallas, E. H. The senate, with a membership of 31, is certain to have five new faces and may have eight. Representative Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo and Ross K. Prescott of Brownwood made the run-off in the 25th district race, eliminating Senator E. M. Davis of Brownwood.

T. J. Holbrook, senate dean, was beaten by William E. Stone of Galveston. Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill was elected to the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. W. R. Newton of Cameron. Senator Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls, who did not ask for renomination, will be succeeded by Rep. George Moffett of Chillicothe. Jesse E. Martin and Rep. Lonnie Smith are in the run-off for the place vacated by Sen. Frank H. Rawlings of Fort Worth.

Sen. Jim Neal of Miranda City was far behind Rogers Kelley of Edinburg but a run-off was possible. In the Dallas district, Sen. Claude C. Westerfield and W. C. Graves made the run-off, while Sen. H. Grady Woodruff of Decatur will have a run-off in District 22 against Rep. R. C. Lanning of Jackboro.

TUBERCULOSIS
Medical Science has made
This Dread Disease Preventable and CURABLE

Such a short time ago Tuberculosis was one of the most dreaded of diseases.
Of course, it is yet a serious thing to allow one's self to become run down and infected with the "T. B." bug. But thanks to scientific and medical research, Tuberculosis is now CURABLE. True enough, patience and full co-operation with Physician's orders is necessary, but what a blessed knowledge that another scourge of mankind is being conquered.
Tuberculosis is not stamped out by a very great deal, and it may take another century, but Medical Science is bringing that day nearer all the time. One of the very best possible ways you can help is to keep up your vitality—have a yearly examination, and insist on the same thing for every member of your family.
The early stage of any chronic, acute or wasting disease is easier to cope with, and most especially is this true of Tuberculosis.

REMOVAL SALE

We are putting on this REMOVAL SALE TO CLOSE OUT OUR STOCK OF SHOES rather than move it. Business has been good with us in the past three years and we want to thank our many customers for the good business they have given us. In return for the good business you have given us we are going to give you an opportunity to buy your shoe needs at good savings to you. We are going to sell all of our stock of shoes at cost and below so we can open up in our new location with new stocks completely.

There are several reasons why we are moving to a new location at this time when lots of stores are crying hard times.

We believe in Corsicana and Navarro county and we value the confidence reposed in us. We think most people are fed up with cheap inferior, poor-fitting foot wear. They are demanding shoes that fit their feet with the utmost of comfort—shoes that wear and give value for the money spent. They have discovered that buying cheap shoes to save money is as foolish as trying to stop the clock to save time—that the best are the cheapest in the long run.

Because we believe in progress and in the future of this community, we are happy to invest in a more modern store, carry higher grade foot-wear and render the best fitting service for our patrons.

Come to our sale and get the benefits of the savings we are offering you on your present foot wear needs. Watch for our opening of a new and modern store at 214 North Beaton, the building now occupied by Brown's Hat Shop.

Travel Texas

When the wandering urge hits you . . . that old familiar vacation-time urge to dust off the windshield, fill up the tank and yell "giddap" to the mechanical ponies under the hood, take a look at the map of Texas. Your Texas!

It covers quite a bit of territory, you'll remember. There's the long sweeping curve of Gulf Coast with its multiple play spots and camping grounds. Ah! there's fishing that IS sport. Swimming, too; care-free days of beach and surf. If your vacation ideas run to glamour and romantic background, drive thru the lush green of the Rio Grande Valley to exciting Mexican border towns and cities. Or go up into the Hill Country, to the dude ranches and pleasure resorts that dot the picturesque magnificence of the Texas mountain landscape.

Camp along the canyons. Drive into the glory of a prairie sunset (a Texan's as proud as if he'd made it!) Explore the caverns of the western boundary; the tall, rich timbered eastern area. Travel to your neighbor cities to sample their fun and good times. Examine the derrick land of fabulous "black gold". Visit the fascinating landmarks of Texas' heroic history . . . down there lived the pirate Lafitte; up here, the valiants died in the Alamo; over yonder lies the San Jacinto Battlefield; along here was the far famed Chisholm Trail. In no other part of this country or in Europe will you find such diverse travel in one section as you will enjoy in your own state of Texas. There are truly a thousand-and-one sights to see, things to do, ways to have a grand vacation . . . when you travel Texas!

And whether you travel North, South, East or West in this great broad state . . . to the sea, the mountains, the valleys or plains . . . you'll be making good use of your Texas highways. Note the well-kept, beautified roads with shrubs and trees, delightful roadside parks, historical markers; and that your Texas Highway Department is building for safety . . . eliminating dangerous crossings, filling in soft shoulders, marking the hills and curves and other "be wary" spots, simplifying driving and reducing hazards by every means modern highway management can devise . . . as rapidly as funds become available.

Every year thousands of visitors to Texas have travelled thousands of miles, from Maine to California, just to enjoy the vacation paradise which is yours for the asking . . . yours without the loss of valuable vacation-time and vacation-funds spent to reach this country . . . because you're already here!

A vacation should be FUN. To travel Texas IS fun. So . . . for a memorable, fun-filled vacation at very little cost . . . THIS YEAR, TRAVEL TEXAS!

GOVERNOR CHANDLER ALLEGEDLY POISONED BY DRINKING WATER

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 28.—(AP)—Kentucky's highway patrol proceeded today with an investigation into the alleged "poisoning" of Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

Major Joe Burman, chief of the state bureau of identification, said it was "not the first time such a thing has happened during the campaign." Chandler is waging for the Democratic senatorial nomination against Senator Alben Barkley, senate majority leader.

"We have our suspicions," Maj. Burman said in promising an investigation "to determine who is responsible for the attempt on the governor's life."

Chandler, 51 since Friday when he was stricken in a Louisville hotel, is the victim of a "doctored" with poison," Dr. J. W. Bryan, his Louisville physician, said in a statement. Dr. Bryan said he did not know what kind of poison it was but added, "It consumed in sufficient quantities would have caused death."

In Louisville Detective Chief Joseph Stewart said: "It is a publicity stunt. Dr. Bryan told me he would not go into court and swear to anything. As far as I am concerned the investigation is all washed up."

John Malley, Chief of Police, and former secret service agent, said: "The poison case is a political bedtime story."

Addressing a radio audience from his bedside in the executive mansion last night, Chandler said, "In no campaign in recent years has a campaign been so desperate."

He recalled that he had just finished a broadcast from his Louisville hotel suite Friday when "two of my associates and I were stricken with intestinal poisoning."

Reporting early this morning after a five-hour investigation, three Louisville city detectives said they could find "no evidence to substantiate" Dr. Bryan's assertion.

Dr. C. W. Dowden, Louisville physician who had been called in on the case, said he "never had any suspicion" of poisoning in the case, but added he had "no theory or opinion" and that "any man who has a pain in the stomach might have been poisoned."

MAN FINALLY LEAPS SEVENTEEN STORIES TO DEATH IN STREET

POISED ON NARROW LEDGE
OF HOTEL ELEVEN HOURS;
THOUSANDS SEE JUMP

By JOHN FERRIS

NEW YORK, July 27.—(AP)—Those who saw John Ward go to his death wondered today what queer obstinacy and indecision kept him waiting, perilously poised, for nearly 11 hours on a narrow ledge 17 stories above the street before he jumped.

In all that time he kept thousands waiting in morbid suspense, thousands who watched him from the street, from bus tops, from windows and the roofs of nearby buildings—a tiny bit of man in a white shirt, who drank incredible quantities of water through the long summer afternoon while police cajoled him in vain attempts to dissuade him from the thought of suicide.

With the coming of night he had become a pale blur as darkness crept up the limestone walls of the Hotel Gotham, Fifth Avenue and 55th Street, a blur sometimes lost in a flicker of some faintly picked-out by the spark of a freshly lighted cigarette.

In the beginning, fear had chilled the hearts of all who saw him. But fear had passed and speculative talk was exchanged, and sorry gibes, arguments, wisecracks.

Focal Point for Day.
Obscure in life, Ward, a 26-year-old unemployed bank teller from Southampton, Long Island, became perhaps the biggest human focal point in the city for a day.

And so a kind of perverted holiday spirit grew upon the crowd that watched him teetering on the dizzy perch. There were overtones, cynicism. He wouldn't jump. Not by a long shot. Amateur psychologists debated the point. All agreed he wouldn't jump.

The police tried new means of saving him—holding up a cargo net they had borrowed from a ship—and then John Ward made his decision.

All the devices the police and fire departments, could think of had failed. The appeals of the police, the promises of the firemen, the words of the priest and several psychiatrists had gone for nothing.

Work to Save His Life.
The police and firemen and everybody who tried to dissuade Ward from jumping didn't spare themselves. Police stood for hours on duty. Firemen waited with a safety net, which nobody expected to save Ward.

Ward, the Southampton police records show, tried to end his life on July 11, 1937, by cutting his throat with a knife. He recovered and was sent to the State Hospital at Central Islip, Long Island. Released in November, he was given an employment by Patrick A. Valentine, travel agency head.

A week ago last Monday Ward jumped from a bridge at Hampton Bays, Long Island, and was rescued from the water by police. Valentine and his wife thought they could rouse Ward from his obvious despondency by taking him and his sister, Mrs. Katherine Bull, to Chicago for a visit.

The outing apparently was not successful, for Ward was depressed when they returned to New York on Monday.

Scrambles Through Window.
They went to the Hotel Gotham. It was about noon yesterday when Ward scrambled through the window of his room, edged along the 18-inch shelf of stone and took a stand midway between two windows at a point where he could lean against a rough curved projection.

This began one of the most nervous and protracted watches New York has known.

The word that Ward, apparently bent on suicide, was getting ready to plunge was flashed to police headquarters. Four radio sound cars sped to 55th Street. A fire truck followed. Behind it came a rescue squad wagon.

A crowd quickly gathered. Sidewalks were jammed on both sides of the street, crowds ceased swarming in Fifth Avenue and stood motionless, waiting in dread-filled anticipation.

People appeared on roofs of nearby buildings, men and women stood against the brown Gothic walls of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church waiting.

Watching Crowd Nervous.
High above the street Ward, toes on the edge of the ledge, looked down. Women glanced up and away. Many hurried on, fearful of the end of the night would come in a few minutes.

A kind of breathless quality marked the crowds. Passengers on the top decks of buses stretched their necks. Office workers, business men, stenographers, women shoppers, men and women going to lunch, forgot their goals and waited to watch.

Ward lit a cigarette—the first of dozens he was to smoke before death—blew the smoke in a big cloud, watched it for an instant and then looked down.

At the corner of 55th Street and Fifth Avenue, laborers worked at a concrete mixer, filling it, carting concrete to the hotel corner where renovations were being made. The crowds thickened.

Word trickled downstairs that Ward's sister and the Valentines were trying to get him to come into the hotel room. He shook his head.

Patrolman Charles Glasgow, a soft-spoken man, tried to coax Ward inside. Through all the afternoon and evening Glasgow was to try tending the innumerable glasses of water Ward drank to convince the man on the ledge the contents were harmless.

Pleadings in Vain.
Psychiatrists tried; the sister, newed her pleadings. A young woman from a sales agency tried to convince Ward he ought

SPORT NOTE

Hank Greenberg, the Detroit first-bagger, hit four home runs Tuesday and Wednesday to bring his total to thirty-three and incidentally that total put him ahead of Babe Ruth's schedule in 1927 when the Bambino clouted sixty circuit smashes.

Buster Brannon, former Texas Christian University star, present coach at Odessa, and formerly of the Odessa team, the Odessa basketball coach at Rice Institute, Houston... He succeeds Jimmie Kitts who will devote his entire time to coaching football...

Kitts went to Odessa in 1937, after several years as a basketball coach and later became football mentor.

In four years since Kitts became football mentor, his Odessa team has won two Southwest Conference championships, pretty fair average in a tough circuit like the Southwest.

Brannon formerly played football at Odessa. He was a guard on the 1929 National champion Hornets and has enjoyed sensational success since he entered the coaching ranks.

High school football teams won regional B championships on several occasions.

Home Run Hitters Wednesday
Included in the lineup were: Padgett, St. Louis Cardinals; Van Orsdol, Marshall; Gehrig, New York Yankees; Sydney, New York Yankees; Myers, Philadelphia Athletics; Greenberg, Detroit; 2; Young, Pittsburgh.

Softball enthusiasts are watching the second annual Richland invitation tournament each night.

A number of fine teams are competing in this affair and considerable interest is being manifested.

Ennis and Corsicana golfers will compete in a dual meet at the Oaks Springs, afternoon.

Ennis has a slight advantage at Ennis last Sunday and the Corsicans have recruited strength in their lineup and have hopes of winning this Sunday's play.

Schoolboy Rowe hurled the full nine innings for Beaumont Wednesday, holding the Oklahoma City Indians off the scoreboard.

Beaumont won the game of the eleven games played and are in first place. The New York Giants are still losing and so is Tulsa, leader of the Texas league for many weeks.

Trotter of San Antonio won his sixteenth mound victory Wednesday when the Missions defeated the El Paso Stars 5-1.

Terrell Trawek, pitcher with the Palestine Pals, has been released by that club.

Trawek now resides in Palestine and has been in organized baseball with Palestine in 1934. He was a resident of Richland.

Trawek has played a portion of each season with the Palestine Pals and has performed well.

to come in. To all the pleadings he "hook his head or answered he had nothing to live for."

He was given words spoken to Dr. G. C. Preaner, a city health department physician who had talked with him frequently during the way.

"He said he would come in if we could promise him a life worth living," said Dr. Preaner.

"He said he had tried many ventures and failed and that many persons close to him were against him."

The youth's final words, the physician said, were:

"There's no way out of it. I have been up here many hours trying to convince myself of a reason for living. I've made up my mind."

Ward then glanced up a moment and at 10:36 p. m. (E.D.T.) he calmly stepped off into space.

Alone In Death
NEW YORK, July 27.—(AP)—Alone in death, the body of 26-year-old John Ward who thrilled tens of thousands of spectators nearly 11 hours yesterday before he leaped to his death from the 17th floor of the Gotham Hotel, lay in an East Side funeral home today.

While morbid throngs still gaped at the 18-inch perch where Ward sulked throughout yesterday afternoon and evening, or pointed to the crimson hued spot on the pavement where his body lay, officials at the funeral parlors said that no one had called to look at the shattered remains. They said they had received no instructions as to disposition.

Power In Flour
I want to convey my thanks to my supporters in every section of the County and every walk of life, for your loyal and I hope never failing support. I am a grateful man for the fact that once again you have helped me out. This time I have begun to think you are right. Since listening to James E. Taylor, in the light of public-spirited citizens, I am ready to agree that after all the other side had something there! Something that throughout the campaign, I had to admire, James Taylor, to my unbiased opinion, without prejudice, is a man that set a course and followed it, regardless of the obstacles thrown in his way. Never, at any time, did I have cause to find fault with his record and Heaven help, I would have if I could have.

If I haven't made myself plain, I am sorry. I am sending him, instead of me and to you both I say, DON'T MUZZLE MY DOG NO MORE.

Sincerely,
ROY CANADY.

HOUSE MEMBERS IN MIDST OF
SOME HOT PRIMARY CAMPAIGNS
SEEKING RETURN TO CONGRESS

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON, June 27.—(AP)—Eleven leading house members, whose campaigns generally have been overshadowed by senatorial races, are in the midst of some hot primary battles of their own.

A number of anti-administration democrats, including a few members of the house rules committee, are encountering stiff opposition from pro-Roosevelt candidates, some of the president's ardent supporters also are having their troubles.

Labor's non-partisan League, practical arm of the C. I. O., is leading the assault.

The league included five rules committee democrats in a blacklist of house members whose re-election it called for opposition from labor. Two of these, Clark of North Carolina and Dies of Texas, already have obtained renomination.

Smith of Virginia and Cox of Georgia, are under fire from candidates who are making an issue of administration support.

In New York City, Chairman O'Connor of the rules committee also has incurred the enmity of such Roosevelt men as Mayor LaGuardia. LaGuardia's campaign has picked O'Connor for renomination, and some republicans have talked of putting him on their ticket, too.

O'Connor incurred the opposition of new dealers by leading the successful fight against the government reorganization bill.

With the backing of LaGuardia and Alex Rose, executive head of the American Labor party, Byrnes MacDonald has announced his candidacy against O'Connor.

A consistent democratic opponent of Roosevelt legislation, Representative Lembeck of Ohio, has four competitors in next month's primary. In support of his votes in the house, he has told audiences, "I stand for constitutional government."

Among the new deal supporters who ran into opposition were Representative Mervin, whom Texas voters defeated for renomination Saturday, and Representative McFarlane of Texas, who was forced into a run-off primary. Maverick for four years has been one of the most vociferous Roosevelt backers in congress, and McFarlane generally has supported the president.

I Wish to Thank my friends for their loyal support in my race for County Commissioner. I am indeed grateful to every one of you.

WAXAHACHIE HURLER PITCHED NO-HIT GAME WEDNESDAY NIGHT

RICHLAND, July 28.—(Sp.)—Davis, pitcher for Waxahachie, turned in a no-hit-game Wednesday night against the Girard Oilers in a five-inning battle.

Davis hurled the Waxahachie All-Stars to the championship in 1938 of the first Richland invitation tournament. He was wild, however, and issued eight free tickets to first base.

McKnight of Richland allowed Dawson only three hits and no runs in the other Wednesday evening tussle and won, 12-0.

Streetman is to oppose Dr. Pepper of Corsicana while Ennis meets Hubbard in the Thursday evening contests.

SUMMER HAIR ARRANGEMENTS.

Miss Forbes suggests simplicity for your summer hair arrangement as a refreshing change, that will also be more becoming to you over the summer months.

Every woman who swims, or just tumbles about in the surf, knows what a bother her hair may become to her over those weeks. The vogue for the permanent wave helped in a small way, but it is not all. There remained the time and work of setting the waves after each period of soaking the hair with water. Bathing caps have improved, so there is less trouble about keeping the hair protected, while the bather is free to enjoy herself without much extra work of keeping the cap held snugly to the head.

One thing to do is to simplify the hair arrangement as much as possible, and usually this means the hair will be more becomingly arranged to the weather. This was done by our other arrangements too, fewer clothes, less decoration all about us. If a woman has short hair, she may have it shorter, and if she wears it long, simplify it too. Curls that will not stay where they make for becomingness, are a bother and make the head look frowzy. Most faces need a soft framing of wavy hair, and will easily have it even though the thermometer is up in the nineties. It will have to be the soft framing, then, and nothing to become disorderly.

For those who like the longer hair will be helped with the arrangement of rolling the hair in to loose rolls held in place with invisible bobby pins. Nothing flies about, yet the whole head is softened by these rolls. There are outfits sold to do this to the hair. The rolls are done by cutting it into the hair is the finest arrangement of all for simplicity, and it is no trouble to keep in place, and universally becoming to women of all ages; but at present, it is too costly for most women to have it done for them. But whatever way you wear your hair, do not keep to any fussiness that will spoil your pleasures, nor your appearance over the vacation days.

Mrs. B. C.—Never let fat accumulate under the chin, as you may easily keep the muscles of the face firm enough so there will be neither the sagging nor the fatty deposit that spoils the chin line. Massage it away, and exercise your neck and facial muscles so they keep in condition. Roll head around over shoulders, going in different directions. Always stretch these muscles to the utmost as you roll the head, and you will not need any other means for keeping a firm neck and chin. From time to time, I give facial exercises in the chats, and have recently covered this fully. Chin straps have their uses, but a better way to build firmness of the facial and neck muscles, for the strap is just a temporary support.

Mrs. J. F.—If you can recall the foods, and amounts, pretty much, that you ate those six weeks, making the sudden change in your figure, you could get rid of that extra easily. Anyway, starches, sugar and fats, build up avoirdupois, and you can make a calculation on these which will help you in choosing the reducing diet now.

Mrs. Y.—Salt is supposed to harden the gums, and it is cleansing and antiseptic. You can easily salt the water you use for rinsing your mouth after cleansing with tooth powder. You will get used to the powder and not miss the pastes all done up with wintergreen and pink coloring, all to make cleansing a state affair. The powder was used for generations and will do all that is needed for cleaning the teeth.

O'DANIEL TO HOLD ALOOF FROM TAKING SIDES IN PRIMARY

RUN-OFF CANDIDATES WILL GET NO NOD FROM GUBERNATORIAL NOMINEE

FORT WORTH, July 28.—(AP)—Run-off candidates for state and county offices who may have been hopeful of a friendly gesture from W. Lee O'Daniel, gubernatorial nominee, are doomed to disappointment.

O'Daniel this morning announced a policy of not taking sides in pending races.

The announcement was made during a visit of State Representative Sewell of Midlothian. He said O'Daniel could insure the election of legislators friendly to the nominee if O'Daniel would just say the word.

O'Daniel explained that he was going on a vacation trip today, and had no thought or desire to inject himself into any local campaign.

Among those who called to pay their respects to the nominee today were W. E. Lea, mayor-elect of Orange, who came to Fort Worth for a conference with PWA officials.

O'Daniel was invited by Lea to attend the formal opening of the $3,000,000 Port Arthur-Orange bridge on Highway 87. The opening has been set tentatively for September. Lea said the definite date would be set to suit the convenience of O'Daniel.

Business Conference. O'Daniel took time out this morning for a conference with officials of General Mills, with whom he is associated in the flour business.

Participating in the conference were James Hargett, president, and Joe Schmidt, general sales manager, both of Oklahoma City, and Harold Vogel, sales manager of the Wichita Falls plant of the company. His flour business is growing by leaps and bounds, O'Daniel said.

Congratulatory telegrams continued to pour in on the nominee. Tom F. Hunter, defeated candidate for governor, wired congratulations from Wichita Falls and offered O'Daniel his services for "making safer the firesides of the homes in Texas."

"Please do not misunderstand me," Hunter added to his offer. "I do not want an appointment. I seek nothing other than the opportunity to serve without pay and at my own expense as I always have."

Coke Stevenson, run-off candidate for lieutenant governor, wired his congratulations from Austin. Stevenson's message:

"The major interest of my political life," Stevenson said, "has been to put business efficiency in government and to stop waste and extravagance in the use of public funds. It is therefore consistent with my record to extend best wishes for your success and say 'at' if I am elected lieutenant governor I pledge you my sincere and hearty cooperation in making your program for Texas 100 per cent successful and efficient."

G. H. Nelson, state senator who was eliminated in the race for lieutenant governor Saturday wired O'Daniel that "as a member of the senate I pledge you my earnest cooperation in working out a progressive program for the people."

S. M. Lister, member of the Premier Canada And Party Safe; Land at Carcross

WHITEHORSE, Y. T., July 28.—(Canadian Press).—A message received here today said Premier Mitchell Hepburn and his accompanying party had landed safely at Carcross, Y. T.

Anxiety for the premier and his party, which included Bernard E. (Seli) Ben Smith, former New York broker, mounted as the hours passed and the party was unreported. The plane took off from here at 5:12 p. m. yesterday for Juneau, Alaska, about an hour's flight.

Delay in hearing of the landing was caused by lack of communication facilities in this far-north country.

The party was reported awaiting weather reports at Carcross before continuing on to Juneau. The plane encountered bad weather near Skagway, Alaska, and returned to Carcross, 30 miles south of here.

Texas Prison board, also wired his congratulations and promised to "do all in my power to make your administration a success."

District Attorney Dan W. Jackson of Houston wired O'Daniel from Cleveland, Ohio, that "your election is causing great interest among members of the American Bar Association meeting here."

An invitation was received by O'Daniel this morning from Mayor Thomas J. Harrison of Pryor, Okla., to attend the Grand River Round-Up, to be held August 28 to the 30th of the $20,000,000 Grand River dam.

Invited to Galveston. GALVESTON, July 28.—(AP)—W. Lee O'Daniel and his smiling Irish family winners in a spectacular campaign that virtually placed the Fort Worth flour manufacturer in the Texas governor's chair, were invited today to re-operate in Galveston from their strenuous campaign as guests of the Galveston Chamber of Commerce.

The invitation was extended by Louis C. Elbert, president, in a message of congratulation.

Will Not Take Part. FORT WORTH, July 28.—(AP)—Arkansas gubernatorial candidate, W. S. McNitt, probably will have a talk along with W. Lee O'Daniel, Texas Democratic gubernatorial candidate, and his hillybilly boys.

At the O'Daniel headquarters it was reported McNitt's invitation for O'Daniel to participate in his Arkansas campaign had not been seen, and probably was buried in an avalanche of other telegrams and letters.

Furthermore, it was explained that O'Daniel was leaving Fort Worth today for a much-earned vacation.

New Way of Playing Slot Machine. BLACKFOOT, Idaho, July 28.—(AP)—If you want to save money, play a slot machine with W. Lee O'Daniel.

When slot machines were barred here, Blenkle obtained one for his home.

Each night he plays it. He spends the coins from the payoff slot but many of the nickels go into the "operator's" inside container.

Blenkle's going to New York on the money he doesn't win.

THOMPSON PLEDGES O'DANIEL SUPPORT IN ADMINISTRATION

AMARILLO MAN SAYS MERCHANT FILLED HIS EYES WITH FLOUR

AUSTIN, July 28.—(AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, runner-up to W. Lee O'Daniel in the governor's race, today pledged his full cooperation to the victor and at the same time strongly hinted he again might seek the office some time in the future.

"I went through a good qualifying course," the 46-year-old head of the interstate oil compact commission said. "I left no stone unturned because I talked about no man."

"I hope Mr. O'Daniel makes a good governor and I shall help him every way I can. I really mean that. A person who wins like he did deserves the co-operation of everyone."

Thompson jokingly said he was having difficulty resuming his duties as railroad commissioner because his eyes were filled with "Hillbilly flour."

"I wasn't running against O'Daniel," Thompson said. "I didn't even know he ran. He ran me and left a cloud of Hillbilly flour in my eyes."

"I extend my congratulations to him. He really knew how to run."

Thompson said he was proud of the vote he received—that it was within about 35,000 of what he expected and ordinarily would have been sufficient to put him into the run-off.

"No one ever complains against the builder of a house which is wrecked by a cyclone," he remarked.

The railroad commissioner said the campaign convinced him the voters were primarily interested in caring for the downtrodden and underprivileged, in helping the blind, the dependent children and the insane.

"Economy in government," he continued, "doesn't seem to be ringing a lot of bells."

Founder of Lubbock Bank Buried Today. LUBBOCK, July 28.—(AP)—One of the last stockmen who built a substantial business from the range on the South Plains after a life beginning 45 years ago as a sheep-herder was buried here this afternoon.

Warren A. Bacon, 66, made money with sheep, and the last years was one of this section's leading business men.

Born in Ohio, Feb. 17, 1871, Bacon moved with his family five years later to Missouri. He settled near Idalou, in Lubbock county, in 1883, and in the early 1900's moved to Lubbock.

He began dealing in real estate after quitting the stock business and was a director and one of the organizers of the Citizens National Bank of Lubbock.

He retired six years ago, when his health became bad. He was found dead in his bed, of a heart attack, Wednesday afternoon.

His widow, a son, L. C. Bacon of Lubbock a brother and a sister survive.

Veteran Rancher Dead. SWEETWATER, July 28.—(AP)—Patrick Ira Elder, 61, charter member of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association and member of the executive board, died early today. Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at San Angelo.

Barkley Hints At Third Term Plan. COVINGTON, Ky., July 28.—(AP)—Senator Albert W. Barkley alluded at a political rally here today to the possibility President Roosevelt might run for a third term.

Speaking in his campaign for reelection, Barkley said: "I keynoted the president into the white house twice and I might possibly do it again in 1940."

Barkley is campaigning against Gov. A. B. Chandler for the democratic nomination.

President Plans To Fish Thursday. ABOARD CRUISER HOUSTON, in Galapagos Archipelago, July 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt resumed his quest for fish today in the waters of Gardner's Bay as the cruiser Houston anchored off Hood Island, the extreme southeast member of the Galapagos Archipelago.

The Houston arrived in Gardner's Bay last night and will remain there throughout the day, probably overnight, before proceeding to Indefatigable Island, about 75 miles away.

To the Voters Of Navarro County. W. Lee O'Daniel wrote history in Texas last Saturday, defying political bull-weather and the people accepted his doctrines of economy and straightforwardness with the old people to be their doctrine.

My record in the legislature, every vote I ever cast sustains my claim before the voters in the first primary that I have fought waste, extravagance, duplication of government agencies, political set-ups, and expect to stand right behind and sustain the new leader of democracy in his fight to clean out the chaff, the graft, the stench accumulated through the years, and start the official life of Texas toward ideals of service our present great cost of government merits.

The people of Texas have spoken, and the voice of the people is the voice of God.

The truths vindicated in last Saturday's election, as understood and pronounced out of the people's hearts, are enduring and no man can mistake their meaning.

I submit my record of honest, energetic, faithful service for the one term I have served in the legislature, as an earnest of my determination to even better my service a second term, and believe in the fairness of my people in such cases.

SENATOR PITTMAN SEES WORLD WARNING OF AMERICAN RIGHTS IN HULL'S NOTE TO MEXICO

WASHINGTON, July 28.—(AP)—Senator Pittman (D-Nev.) said today he believed the course of this country's world trade might be profoundly affected by the controversy with Mexico over property seizures.

Pittman, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, said the United States could not permit the situation to go unchallenged because it would tend to "wreck" if not destroy, the rights of our citizens under treaties of amity and commerce throughout the world.

For that reason, Pittman said, he regarded Secretary Hull's note on the land seizure as not only a warning to Mexico, but a notice to all other governments that this country will not permit confiscation of American-owned property abroad.

Farm land owned by Americans, Hull's note said, has been taken over by the Mexican government since 1927. Hull emphasized the principle there should be no expropriation of property without immediate payment of compensation to the owner.

Failure to maintain this principle in Mexico's seizure of oil and farm properties belonging to American citizens, Pittman said, would make such holdings the prey of unscrupulous governments in all portions of the world. The result, he predicted, would be severe crippling of this country's world trade.

Recounting Hull's statement in attempting unsuccessfully to obtain arbitration of claims for Mexican property seizure dating back to 1915, Pittman said:

"It is evident that unless just compensation is made for such confiscation without further avoidance of the issue, that the good neighbor policy which our government has made such strenuous efforts to maintain will be destroyed."

"That would be very unfortunate for both countries, particularly Mexico, which has been receiving our financial aid."

POSTAL SERVICE OF UNITED STATES IS 163 YEARS OLD AND STILL FACED BY SAME PROBLEM

By EDDY GILMORE. WASHINGTON, July 28.—(AP)—The United States postal service—which is 163 years old today—has one problem as old as itself—poorly-addressed letters.

The same horror harassed Benjamin Franklin when in 1776 the continental congress established the continental post office and made him postmaster general.

He predicted hopefully that the colonials some day would learn to write names more plainly, but they didn't and their descendants have not yet learned.

A postal official estimated today that poor and careless handwriting costs the government about $1,500,000 a year. There is no telling what the people pay for it individually, he added.

Writing costs the government about $1,500,000 a year. There is no telling what the people pay for it individually, he added.

Is no telling what the people pay for it individually, he added. The main offenders are:

1. Character handwriters—people who try to pen their personalities on the outside of a letter.

2. Careless abbreviators—folks who write "Me" and let the postman clerk decide whether it's Missouri or Montana.

3. Just plain bad writing. The similarity of city names is another thing that almost drives the clerks out of their cages.

Take Cleveland, for instance. The nation has 26 besides the one in Ohio. And there are 28 Troy's, and 12 Birmingham's.

More than 100,000 Americans didn't put any address on letters last year. They didn't, in fact, write anything on the envelopes—just mailed them blank.

which have community property tax laws, enabling husband and wife to divide incomes for tax purposes.

Representative Maury Maverick, whose home district of San Antonio is one of the largest army centers in the United States, was a member of the house military affairs committee. Another Texan, however, serves on the committee and is second only to the chairman. He is Ewing Thomson of El Paso.

The next session of congress will see no Texas on the important appropriations committee unless another is named to succeed the only present member, Representative W. D. McFarlane of Graham, if he is defeated by a Wichita Falls attorney, Ed Gossett, in the run-off. McFarlane was assigned to the committee in 1937 after the death of its chairman, the late James P. Buchanan of Brenham, Texas.

As the sole Texan on the ways and means committee, Sanders sought wherever possible to aid the junior members of the state's delegation get assignment to "exclusive committees," as those bodies are called which rank most important.

Generally, membership to the exclusive and other important committees depends to a large extent on seniority. In view of that fact several Texans who have just completed their first and second terms are scheduled for promotion. Among these is Representative Charles L. South of Coleman. Last session Sanders, house majority leader, Sam Rayburn from Bonham, Texas, and others discussed with him possible assignment to the interstate and foreign commerce committee. Since Rayburn left chairmanship of that body to become majority leader, neither Texas nor the southwest has had a representative on that committee.

O'DANIEL'S VOTE SOARS ABOVE HALF MILLION TODAY

STATE TOTAL VOTE HAS ALSO GONE BEYOND THE ESTIMATED MILLION

DALLAS, July 27.—(AP)—Returns to the Texas Election Bureau at 2 p. m. from 222 out of 284 counties in the state, including 213 complete, show the following totals for gubernatorial candidates in Saturday's democratic primary election:

Brogden 1,488; Crowley 17,737; Farmer 3,692; Ferguson 3,748; Hunter 108,846; King 776; McCoy 1,715; McCraw 142,999; Miller 771; O'Daniel 535,707; Ransom 8,597; Self 1,442; Thompson 208,154.

Election bureau officials estimated the vote for governor would not reach the 1,053,117 polled in the 1936 first primary, when Governor James V. Allred won renomination by a majority.

Ed Bossett, Wichita Falls attorney, will be in a runoff with Congressman W. D. McFarlane of Graham, Aug. 27, complete returns from the fifteen counties in the thirteenth district showed.

Gossett led a four-cornered race with 30,029 votes and lacked only 1,868 of a majority over McFarlane, who received 27,522 ballots; K. C. Spell, Wichita Falls barber, who polled 3,624, and C. L. Somerville, Wichita Falls 750.

Paul Kilday defeated Congressman Maury Maverick, San Antonio, by 548 votes. The final returns gave Kilday 2,835, Maverick 24,287.

Returns from all of the eight counties in the third congressional district, including five complete, kept Lindley Beckworth, Gilmer, in lead over Congressman Morgan Sanders. Unless Sanders is passed by Brady Gentry, Honey Grove, there will be a runoff between Beckworth and Sanders.

Maverick Lost by 493 Votes. SAN ANTONIO, July 27.—(AP)—Although Rep. Maury Maverick whittled down the majority of his opponent, Paul J. Kilday, in the congressional race, he still trailed Kilday by 493 votes in the official tabulation which was completed by the county democratic committee today.

The official count stood at 24,327 votes for Kilday and 24,329 for Maverick.

The defeated congressman has said he conceded Kilday's election and would not ask for a recount. He reiterated this today.

Move Started to Save Fish Dying In Laguna Madre

AUSTIN, July 28.—(AP)—The game, fish and oyster commission had moved today to halt the high mortality among fish in the upper reaches of Laguna Madre.

At a meeting yesterday it instructed W. W. Boyd, director of coastal operations, to seek cooperation of the engineers in making a survey for a channel near Murdock's Landing on Padre Island to let gulf waters flow into the lagoon.

An estimated 1,000,000 pounds of fish have died recently because of too much salinity in Laguna Madre waters and conservationists believe an influx of gulf waters will correct the condition.

Corpus Christi sportsmen told the commission they had been blocked in an attempt to blast a channel through the island.
